CHALON-SUR-SAÔNE

THE OLD TOWN

duration of the tour: 2h

Chalon came into being as the main port to the Eduens people during the Gaulish period and saw its glory days at the beginning of the Middle Ages as the Merovingian capital of Burgundy, and then as the site of famous international fairs. Chalon is equally renowned as the birthplace of Joseph Nicéphore Niépce, born here in 1765. It was in 1824, a few kilometres from here, that he invented photography. Today, it is a city of Art and History, where the Old Town has half-timbered houses built between the 15th and 17th centuries, the restored facade of St Vincent's cathedral and the classical mansions of the 17th and 18th centuries. The entirely renovated cathedral cloister particularly worth a visit.

duration of the tour: 1h

Today, the cloister of St Vincent's cathedral is the only preserved canonical (belonging to the canons) cloister in Burgundy and Franche-Comté. Its surrounding walls have been dated to around the year one thousand, which makes it even more exceptional. Three wings with trilobed arches date from the 14th century and were vaulted with ribs in the 15th century. The north wing is a modern reconstruction of a gallery that disappeared in the 19th century.

THE HERITAGE CENTRE

duration of the tour: 1h

Permanent exhibitions retrace the history of the town, from its origins to modern times. Information panels throw light on certain specific aspects, for example, the fortifications, the mansions and how the town has evolved through the centuries.

© Rozenn KREBEL

duration of the tour: 1h30

Chalon's first museum, created in 1866 is as eclectic as the personality who bequeathed it his name, Dominique Vivant Denon. The many historic and prehistoric artefacts which came directly from the Saône prove that man has occupied this region for many hundreds of thousands of years. The fine arts collection includes works from the best periods of the French, Italian, Flemish and Dutch schools of the 17th and 18th centuries. Many of the rooms are dedicated to Denon and his contemporaries, including a number of local artists.

duration of the tour: 1h30

As the birthplace of photography, Chalon is home to the premiere European Museum of the Image. Photographs, personal effects and cameras from 1861 onwards that belonged to Niépce have been collected and displayed here. Since the museum opened in 1974, the collections have been considerably enlarged enabling everyone, from those who know nothing to enlightened enthusiasts, to follow the history of photography via cameras and photographs. There are permanent and temporary exhibitions.

TEMPORARY EXHIBITIONS

Programs for the temporary exhibitions are available from the Museum and the Tourist Office

THE CHÂTEAU DE GERMOLLES

duration of the tour: 1h30

In 1380 Philippe le Hardi, Duke of Burgundy bought for his wife Marguerite of Flanders, the fortified house of Germolles. The Duchess then went about transforming it into a luxurious residence, commissioning the works of the best artists of the Burgundy School (Claus Sluter, Jean De Beaufort). The tour takes you around the cellars, the lower chapel and the entry towers, the main hall, the chapel and the ducal apartments, as well as those of the court. The painted and sculpted decoration, along with the floor tiles attest to the quality of the chateau. An English style park added in the 19th century completes the site.

SAINT-RÉMY

© Musée de l'école

THE SCHOOL MUSEUM

duration of the tour: 1h30

The museum retraces the history of school life from the French Revolution to the present day in the form of the two classrooms reproduced here. The Republican School of the 19th century is presented in the Jules Ferry room, using educational materials and equipment of the time, like the desks, the back straighteners... In the 1930's classroom it is the time of violet ink, steel nibbed pens and ink-stained fingers, the time of learning both lessons and morality.

RULLY

© Rozenn KREBEL

THE CHÂTEAU DE RULLY

duration of the tour: 1h30

A mediaeval fortress built by enlarging a square keep dating from the 12th century, the chateau shows interesting military architecture with a parapet walk, crenelated battlements, overhanging embrasures, and arrow slits. The main dwellings date from the beginning of the Renaissance period. The vaulted kitchen in the tower has an enormous chimney and a large collection of copper kitchenware. The 18th century outbuildings have the largest stone roof in Burgundy. In the middle of a wine estate, the chateau has remained in the same family since it was built.

ST-LOUP-DE-VARENNES

THE NIÉPCE HOUSE

duration of the tour: 1h30

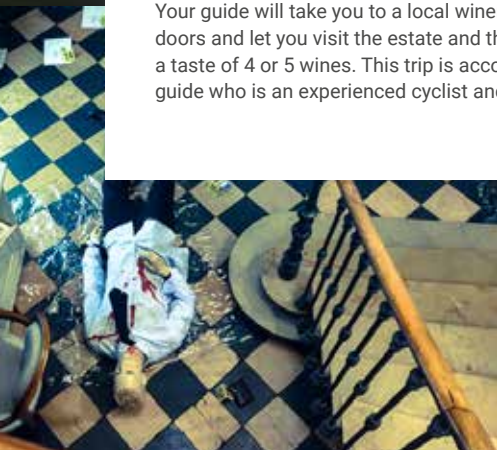

It is the unusual and attractive place where Nicéphore Niépce invented photography, calling it first "Heliography" and then "Physautotype". We know that it was here, along with his brother Claude, that he invented the first internal combustion engine and made improvements to his "vélocipède". In April 1816 Niépce started his first experiments which in 1824 brought him to the invention of photography. He finally succeeded in fixing the view from the window of his workshop on the first floor of the house onto a pewter plate.
